

Electronics technician in shift system (m/f/d/a)

Your responsibilities:

- Soldering and assembling components using SMD and THT technology according to drawings and component lists
- Inspection and re-soldering of electronic components
- Handling inspection, assembly, or soldering equipment
- Operating and setting up test equipment such as flying probe test systems
- Independent troubleshooting and repair of complex assemblies
- Maintenance and repair of systems, machines and testing equipment
- Responsibility for the quality and punctuality of deliveries

We offer:

- a secure employment and attractive remuneration including participation in the company results
- 30 days basic vacation /up to 33 days depending on length of service
- practice-oriented and individual training
- good work-life balance with a 38-hour week and paid days off for certain life situations
- break areas with kitchen appliances, snack and beverage vending machines
- friendly and open corporate culture with regular summer parties and the annual Christmas party
- company pension scheme, internal health offers and the option of JobRad leasing and the Deutschlandticket

Your profile:

- You have technical vocational training in the field of electrical engineering, ideally as an electronics technician for devices and systems.
- You have some initial professional experience in the manufacturing sector.
- Ideally, you have a basic knowledge of English and production systems.
- You work carefully and independently.
- You are reliable and a team player.
- You are willing to work in 3 shifts

The best time to apply is now! Apply at: bewerbung@epsa.de